About Marwen

Marwen is a nonprofit dedicated to educating and inspiring young people to nurture their growth and build their futures through art and community. Whether it's through counseling, internships, or the chance to explore different artistic mediums, Marwen aims to increase access to visual arts education and create better futures for all. Now in our 39th year of existence, over 16,000 young people have discovered their potential through Marwen courses, residencies, workshops, and community.

Today, 81% of our young people identify as BIPOC and 82% are from low-income families who have limited or nonexistent access to art classes and professional development opportunities. That's why our programs are free for all young people across Chicago. We believe visual arts education and creative career paths are for everyone – art not only fuels creativity, but also builds confidence and strengthens skills in all areas of life.

About Art Fair

Friday October 23rd | 6:30 - 9:30 pm | 833 N Orleans St

Marwen's Associate Board is thrilled to host Art Fair 2026, the 20th anniversary celebration of Marwen's annual exhibition, art auction, and fundraiser. The fair features artworks made by Marwen students, alumni, teaching artists, and staff in an exhibition that fills three floors of galleries. Join us for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres as you take in the boundless creativity of the Marwen community and bid on the artworks that inspire you the most.

For many of the young people enrolled in our studio courses, Art Fair is their first opportunity to exhibit and sell art. Each artist receives 75% of their sale with all remaining proceeds directly supporting Marwen's no-cost programming and creative work. Over the past 20 years, Art Fair has generated over $1.1 million while returning more than $160,000 in art sales directly to participating artists. Art Fair is where all facets of Marwen come together to showcase what we believe in: the power of art and community to nurture phenomenal human beings.
